PALM TREES MOVED FROM ZALUD HOME

LANDMARK PALM trees at the historic Pearle Zalud home, were removed this week and replanted at Hayes field. The home, which was willed to the city by the late Miss Zalud, was built in the 1890s and is to be maintained as a museum-type show-place, however, settling of the Zalud estate has been delayed as a result of legal actions against the estate. It now appears that the estate can be closed in about 30 days unless another successful appeal is made. (Farm Tribune photo)

Changes Along The Emigrant Trail

ANOTHER CHANGE along the Emigrant trail was completed this week when Bank of America held Open House Tuesday evening in the new bank building on the west side of Main street between Thurman and Harrison. The site had previously been occupied by Billingsley and Madland Ford, and by Ben Spear Dodge, however these buildings were demolished to make way for the new bank and parking area. In Porterville's earlier days this was location for the tent when the Chautauqua came to town. Above pictures show two views of the bank building from Main street. (Farm Tribune photos)

FARM INCOME AT RECORD HIGH ... SO ARE PRODUCTION COSTS

VISALIA — Tulare county farm income hit a record high of $580,729,000 in 1973, according to Agricultural Commissioner Clyde Churchill, who issued his annual report yesterday, however, production costs were also at a record high. The 1973 county farm income figure is $117,588,000 above 1972, which was also a record year. Churchill emphasizes that figures in his report represent gross returns to agricultural producers on an f.o.b. basis and do not indicate actual profit.

FLOODWAY HEARING FOR TULE RIVER

Public hearing on a designated floodway plan for the Tule river below Lake Success has been set by the State Reclamation board for June 14, 10 a.m., in the Porterville city hall. Maps showing the proposed floodway will be available for public inspection in the city hall after June 3.

Highlights of the report show that in 1973 total revenue from fruit and nut crops increased slightly more than 10 percent in spite of the fact that revenue from citrus was down 30 percent, the citrus drop resulting from a killing frost in December of 1972.

Revenue from county vegetable crops, at $24,502,000, was up more than 69 percent.

Total field crop revenue, at $148,726,000, was up 67 percent; livestock and poultry revenue was $68,881,000, and increase of $9,000,000 over 1972; livestock and poultry products showed a revenue gain of 19 percent; apiary products showed a considerable increase over 1972 with a revenue of $1,335,000; and total value of nursery products was $4,573,000, a small increase over 1972 as emphasis shifted from citrus tree production to grape cuttings and ornamental shrubs.

Total plantings of trees and vines in the county hit 247,904 acres, an increase of 21,040 acres over the previous year. Navel orange acreage increased 1,605 acres; Tangerines, 627 acres; almonds, 1,391 acres; raisin type grapes, 1,218 acres; wine grapes, 2,352 acres; Nectarines, 1,443 acres; olives, 689 acres; plums, 1,580 acres; pomegranates, 1,093 acres; and walnuts, 6,965 acres.

BUCK SHAFFER, left, who directed the Porterville High School Panther band in its 21st annual concert Friday night in the Memorial auditorium, is shown with award winners - John Boudreau, director of the Los Angeles Rams band and guest director at the Concert, who was the first non-alumnus of Porterville high to receive the Frank Howard Music award; Jim Brown, recipient of the Frank Howard Student award; and Doug Bigham and Jeannie Lopez, recipients of La Sierra Music camp scholarships. Finest Locker Meat For Sale At Fair's Market Livestock Auction

PORTERVILLE — Just what effect a declining livestock market will have on the Porterville fair's auction Saturday is debatable, but there is no mystery about the quality of the animals that Future Farmers and 4-H exhibitors will put in the sale ring - they'll be tops.

Sale Chairman George Carter urges buyers to attend the sale and enjoy the "action of the auction," but orders for beef, lambs, or hogs can be placed with members of the sale committee: Bob Fields, Don Laux, Joe Mosconi, Corky Wynn and Merle Thompson.

Calling the sale again will be one of the nation's top livestock auctioneers, Col. H. "Skinner" Hardy, of Bakersfield. Sale clerk will be Earl Reed; sale cashier, Fred Thacker. Handling sale money will be personnel of the American National bank.

Carter points out that animals sold have been fed and finished as a 4-H or Future Farmer project. Price the animal brings (Continued On Page 8) year to go toward new Bartlett band uniforms. Photos show some of the workers and, in upper left photo, Barney Richardson, president of the Porterville chamber of

IT WAS just like the old days, Sunday afternoon, when the Monache Marauder band, under direction of Dale Anderson,

Program Available On Special Pool Tax

PORTERVILLE — An informational presentation concerning the proposed Porterville Union High School district special tax election is now available for service clubs, chambers of commerce, PTA executive boards and other interested groups, according to Paul Perkins, chairman of the newly formed Swimming Pool Advisory committee.

The presentation may be scheduled by calling Dr. Jacob Rankin at the district office, 784-7000, extension 13.

Appearing on the June 4 ballot, the special tax is being proposed for two years to raise funds to construct swimming pools on both the Porterville and Monache campuses.

The tax rate would be increased approximately 15 cents per $100 of assessed valuation for each of the two years, Perkins said, citing that a home owner in a $25,000 home (market place), he or she would pay approximately $9.37 more in taxes for each of the two years or about 78 cents more per month.

Preliminary plans, if the special tax is passed, call for ell-shaped pools, 25 yards by 25 meters. The present cost is estimated at $200,000 for each pool.

Money raised by the special tax can be used for no other purpose than to construct swimming pools, Perkins said.

DONALD STARR, fire dispatcher for the Sequoia National forest, has announced his retirement after 33 years of government service, 16 years of which was in the Sequoia Forest Supervisor's office in Porterville. Starr, a native of Wisconsin, is a graduate of Whittier high school and has been with the Forest Service since 1937. Starr, his wife, Mary, and son, Norman, plan to move to the Redlands area in the near future; he will be replaced in the Sequoia Forest office by Joe Juarez, from the San Bernardino National forest. Friends will honor the Starrs at a retirement party on May 18.

"Inherit The Wind" Being Cast For Barn Production

PORTERVILLE — Tryouts for the Barn Theatre's summer production, "Inherit The Wind," will be held at the Barn on Sunday, May 19 at 7 p.m. and again on Saturday, May 25 at 3 p.m. There are more than 30 speaking parts plus innumerable "extras," townspeople, jurors, and one monkey.

All ages and types are needed from six to sixty. Rehearsals will begin on Monday, May 27; the play will open on Friday, June 28.

"Inherit The Wind" is a dramatization of the famed Scopes or "Monkey" trial held in Tennessee some 50 years ago. Scopes, a young teacher, was arrested for teaching Darwin's Theory of Evolution, then considered as being contrary to the "Word" of the Bible in that state at that time, therefore against the law.

What would have been a small town furor became an international cause celebre when William Jennings Bryan, America's greatest orator and a prime exponent of "Biblical literacy" as well as thrice Democratic candidate for president, came to prosecute, and Clarence Darrow, the country's greatest criminal lawyer, was hired to defend.

Eldon Hunt has been "signed" for the Clarence Darrow part; all other roles are open. Director Carl Driver can be reached at 784-8086 for further information.

George Burrell, Hanford; Bob Ruiz, Dinuba; Don Roberts, Tulare Western; Ken White and David Smith, Tulare Union.

Al Weaver, Porterville, is chairman of the selection committee. Don Howard, Porterville, announced that admission tickets will soon be on sale in all communities. Proceeds from the $2.00 admission charge will go toward Lions' Youth projects. Attendance prizes will be awarded during the evening.

SPRINGVILLE HOUSING COMPLEX SUBJECT OF TALK

PORTERVILLE — As its last meeting of this school year, the Active Retirement class will have a potluck lunch on Tuesday, May 28, at the Porterville National Guard armory with Roger Barr, of the Tulare County Housing authority, speaking on the Springville

Each person is asked to bring his own table service and a main dish, salad, or dessert. Coffee, punch, cups, and napkins will be provided. Class members are asked to bring a friend.

"Business is like a wheel-

SALLY GILLESPIE, of Coe Aviation, left, talks to Tonia Mason and Darnell Grant, who she flew to Sacramento Tuesday morning to appear as "Beef Girls" at a California Cattlemen's Association Legislative breakfast. The girls, sponsored by the Tulare County CowBelles, passed out beef cookbooks.

LORI HEYL, Porterville High School Future Farmer, made history when she became the first girl FFA member to win Tulare-Kings sectional project competition. She is shown with Ray Kennedy, head of the Porterville High Agriculture department.

First forecast for the 1974 almond crop in California is 170,000 tons in-shell, the equivalent of 205 million pounds of nut meat, a record high.

Lettuce harvest continues steady along the Westside and in the Bakersfield area.

Lori Heyl Is Sectional FFA Double Winner

PORTERVILLE - A Porterville high school senior made some kind of history when she became the first feminine member of FFA in the Tulare-Kings section to win first place for FFA projects and a gold certificate for such projects. Winning the double award was Lori Heyl.

Miss Heyl has as her projects home improvement, beef heifers and registered quarter horses. She was the only PUHS member in Division II, for juniors and seniors, to win a gold certificate.

In Division I for freshmen and sophomores, four members won gold awards for their projects. Bryan Borror won for beef breeding; David Brown for citrus management, 100 to 120 acres of grain and hay and for market lambs; Jim Rappalie for custom baling and swathing; and Doug Schultz for swine breeding, swine feeding and beef feeding.

Blue awards were won by two students, Steve Babish winning for swine breeding, registered Hampshire, swine feeding (market hogs) and work experience. Bill Moench won for grain, cotton, corn and swine breeding and feeding.

The contest was sponsored by the county department of ag education, California Young Farmers association and Security Pacific bank.

First shipment of spring potatoes left Kern county on April 20.

Bring the family - have fun at the fair, Friday and Saturday.

FAIR GROUNDS

at 9 a.m. with four classes of competition: "Small Fry," 10 years and younger; junior, 11-14 years; senior, 15-19 years; and adults, 20 years and older.

Events will include single stake, Texas barrels, cloverleaf barrels, figure-8 stake, and quadrangle; ribbons will go for first through fifth.

Starting at 9:45 p.m. Saturday in the outdoor stage area, local bands will perform "Strictly For Young People."

Professional performers will be "on stage" each night of the fair in traditional outdoor grandstand show, starting at 8 p.m. - the Great Bruno on the sway pole; The Nobbitts on the trampoline; the Stepping Stones in an acro-dance routine; David and Irene, circus aerialists; and Carl Carony, famous European hand balancer. Backing the show on the organ will be George Goulding.

Preceding the professional show each night will be Barnyard Olympics, with a new fair feature - businessmen's goat tying scheduled for Friday and Saturday nights.

Special attraction during the Saturday night show will be Diane Wilson's Porterville Twirlerettes.

Throughout the fair Johnny

Lopez will have his Western Pacific Shows and Carnival on the grounds.

Food and drink concessions will be operated during the fair by the Filipino Community, Poplar Chamber of Commerce, Job's Daughters, Porterville Emblem club, Pleasant View 4-H, Mexican Catholic Organization, and Porterville Jaycees.

FINEST MEAT

puts a profit or loss tag on the completed project.

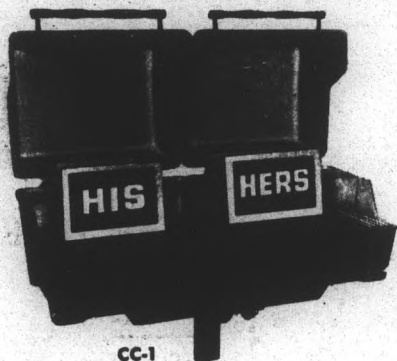

"We try to get a legitimate premium above market for the boys and girls who exhibit market livestock at the fair and who put their animals in the auction ring," Carter says. "Even paying a premium, buyers get an excellent deal in that they can put meat in their locker at an economical price compared to retail prices."

Businessmen, or other persons, can bid in sale animals then sell them back at whatever the established market price is on the day of the sale, actually paying only the difference between market price and their bid.

Spring onion crop in California is estimated at 18 percent above a year ago.
